The Johnson City dynamiters are free once more. They got off with a mistrial, a bad scare and the payment of all costs.

Mr. Wm. Dickinson, of Morristown, came up a few days ago and will spend a few weeks with his son, the clever proprietor of the City Hotel.

W. S. Hamilton, of the Goodson Democrat spent a few hours in our city yesterday, and while here paid his respects to THE COMET.

Roasting years will soon be on the market. -Enterprise.
If this has not been a roasting year so far we want to go North.

Miss Nannie Snyder, of Elizabethton, passed through the city yesterday on her way to Estillville, Va., to visit her schoolmate, Miss Josie Edmonds.

Messrs. J. L. Bond, Alf Parrot and Bruce Cartright, of Blountville, accompanied by Misses Addie Bumgardner, Annie Kate Hammer and Belle Glenn, of the same place visited THE COMET last week. We are sorry neither editor was in.

Our Republican friend, Capt. W. A. Nelson, of Carter county, renews his subscription to THE COMET and modestly advises us to stick to the truth as close as possible. We intend to do that, Captain, even if it should be at the expense of your not liking the paper so well.

R. L. Patton, Superintendent of Public Instruction, for Washington county has promised to contribute a series of short articles on educational matters for THE COMET. He will have something to say of interest to the school directors of the county and advises them to subscribe for this paper.

Mrs. Jon. W. Eakin, nee Miss Mollie Patton, died at her father's residence in Jonesboro, last Wednesday morning at 8:30 a.m. She had only been married a short time and leaves a kind husband and a host of sympathizing friends who mourn her loss.

THE COMET acknowledges the receipt of the first number of the Plaindealer, published at Wheat, Tenn. We don't know exactly where Wheat is, but we think the Plaindealer a very creditable little paper. It is quite small, but then precious things are put up in small packages. We hope it will live long and grow big.

THE COMET office has just received a bill of the best quality of stationery, consisting of letter heads, packet and note heads, bill heads, statements, cards, envelopes etc., and is now prepared to do all kind of job work on short notice and at low figures. Nothing but the best grade of work will be done at this office. Call and see samples.

When the organs of secretion become inactive by reason of a cold or other cause, the inflammatory material should be removed and healthy action restored. Ayer's Pills accomplish this quickly, safely, and surely. Much serious sickness and suffering might be prevented by promptly correcting such derangements which often develop into settled disease.

A festival will be given on the night of July 23 at Jobe's Opera House, the object of which is to raise funds to inclose the grounds of Science Hill Institute and make a walk from main street to the school grounds. We hope that all the friends of Education in this community will give the enterprise a liberal patronage, as this is a much needed improvement and one that will add greatly to the beauty of our city.

We were shown this week a fine specimen of headless barley, by Mr. G. E. Swadley, of Unicoi county. Mr. Swadley is the first to introduce this remarkable grain in East Tennessee, and deserves great credit, for it is sure to prove a useful addition to the farm products of our country. We publish, in another column, a communication more fully describing this grain by himself, which should be read by all interested.

Capt. Joe Hale enlivened the regions around Johnson City last Tuesday night with a fox chase. A pet fox was lead around town and then about a dozen hounds were put on the trail. We learn that the Captain is very much agitated over the idea that when Jonesboro extends its corporate limits so as to include Johnson City, an ordinance will be passed against fox chasing. He is therefore against annexation.

Last Friday THE COMET sanctum was honored by a visit from three of the "fairest of the fair" sex, Mrs. Bettie Crawford, of Bristol, Tenn., Miss Lizzie Bourne, of Baltimore Md., and Miss Nannie Snyder, of Elizabethton, Tenn. Besides their own charming selves they brought with them a small package, highly perfumed, we will not mention the contents, suffice it to say that after complying with the directions it acted like a charm.

Drowned—Thomas Johnson, a lad thirteen years old, was drowned in Holston River at Union Depot, last Monday. He was left standing on the bank of the river by another boy, and it is thought was attacked by an epileptic fit, to which he was subject, and fell into the river. The body was found a few feet from where he was last seen.

Last Thursday after our edition had been printed THE COMET received, through the kindness of Capt. W. P. Miller, the handsomest cake it has ever been our pleasure to see, with the following card accompanying it: "Compliments of the ladies of the Snyder House to the editors of THE COMET." The Snyder House is one of the most popular summer resorts in East Tennessee. If there is anything that causes an editor's heart to palpitate with greater joy than to receive a pound cake from such a source, (unless a ten pound one) we don't know what it is. Ordinarily editors are satisfied with "taking the cake," but when we think of the fair hands that made this one (we are surprised we are living now to write this) we find it impossible to express our thanks for such a kind and substantial remembrance.

Woman kneads but little of her food, But what she kneads, is always good. To thank you we've exhausted our catalogue, But to use a slang term that cake was "just dog."

Freight Shipments—Week ending July 11th the E. T. Va. & Ga. R. R. Co. shipped from Johnson City sixty carloads of lumber and ore making 2,052,000 pounds of freight in one week. We are informed by Mr. Eakin, depot agent that freight business generally is on the increase.

New Factory.—Mr. D. T. Nevin, of Pittsburgh Pa., has arrived in the city for the purpose of establishing a carriage rim and felloe factory. He has leased the second story of the Foundry and Machine Works building and will remain in our midst until his machinery arrives and is in operation. This is the kind of a man it takes to build up a town, and Johnson City is always ready to do all in its power to help such men when we are satisfied they mean business.

Notice.

A most desirable farm for sale, known as the Richerson Harrington farm, one fourth mile west of Johnson City. one hundred and twelve acres in the tract. A good log house, good barn and other out buildings, good spring. Land in good cultivation. Price $60 per acre.

Charity Harrington's Heirs.

Carter County's Fair.

The citizens of Carter county held a public meeting at Elizabethton on Monday to consider the question of a county fair. J. J. McCorkle was made Chairman of the meeting and Geo. Boren, Sec. Committees were appointed to solicit subscriptions for the stock of the association. This committee will report to the Chairman, who will then call a meeting of the stockholders for the purpose of electing permanent officers, etc. The grounds will be located at Elizabethton or Hampton. If Hampton should be made the point of location, Johnson county will take considerable interest in the fair. We hope they will succeed.

What She Knew About It.

A Sullin's College graduate while visiting her schoolmate in the country was being shown over the farm. The stable was visited first.

"Dear me how close the poor cows are crowded together," she remarked.

"Yes, but we have to do that," replied her guide.

"Why so?"

"So they will give condensed milk."

She believed it. Passing on to the poultry yard, the first thing she beheld being a young gosling, she exclaimed.

"What a dear little chicken! Hasn't it got cute little feet! Hear it mew, Oh, isn't it sweet!"

The guide being disgusted took her to the house and gave her the latest novel.

From Elizabethton.

Circuit court is in session here this week, or rather criminal court, for all civil cases were continued on Monday until the November term, and the week will be consumed in the trial of criminal cases.

The lawyers and politicians are here in full force, but there is not the usual discussion of political probabilities and possibilities one hears at court times in this, the political Mecca of East Tennessee. The Republican prominent for the next Congressional race are nearly all here. Judge R. R. Butler looks as serene and smiles as affably as in days of yore when he represented the First District in Congress. He would have no objection to returning to those good old days.

Pettibone is here, presumably to look after the little suit brought against him by Dr. Alexander, and says he is not a candidate. But the knowing ones who have stood by him in the past, say that while he is not a candidate he is "in the hands of his friends." Pettibone and Walt Brownlow together are playing a deep game, and you will find in the long run, that the man who gets the nomination will have to beat Pettibone.

Senator Simerly is talked of a good deal in Carter county as a probable nominee, but the old Republicans may crowd him out.

All Taylor says he is out of politics, but we don't believe he can stand the pressure. He has hosts of friends in Carter county who are urging him to seek the nomination. If he determines to again enter the contest, it would be pretty safe to say that Carter county will stand by him.

Judge Hacker, it is said, will not be a candidate for Congress. He wants another term as Judge, but would accept a Congressional nomination if forced upon him. -This about completes the Congressional list.

The race for Chancellor does not involve much discussion, though Carter county has two candidates. Jno. P. Smith, has resigned his position as Assistant U. S. Attorney for East Tennessee, and moved with his family to Elizabethton, and will be a candidate for Chancellor. C. C. Collins will also be a candidate. Chris. is a young man but has lots of backing in Carter county. But if either receives the nomination he will have to defeat John Murphy, of Morristown, who is carefully laying his wires, some of which run up into Carter and Johnson.

We hear of no opposition to John Fain, for Attorney General, among Republicans up this way. J. F. Hale, however, is now a citizen of Greene county, and it is said, will have Pettibone's influence for that place. Tyler Campbell, of Hancock, may give trouble in the lower end.

Headless Barley.

Something entirely new is being propagated and introduced in East Tennessee by G. E. Swadley, of Unicoi county. A barley without heads, and as smooth and harmless as smooth wheat. I desire every reader of THE COMET, especially every farmer, to note the facts and figures in the matter. In the spring of 1884, about the 20th of March, I sowed 4 pounds of this new grain, and threshed 4 bushels. In the last week in March and the first week in April, 1885, I sowed 3 bushels and 5 gallons, and finished harvesting on the 8th inst. It not being threshed, I can not tell what amount there will be, but estimate the crop at 125 to 150 bushels. It is fine feed for stock, and supplies the place of oats—which is a very uncertain crop—also millet and hay. According to analysis, the straw contains more nutritive properties in it than clover hay. Admitting this to be true it will prove to be a good thing for the farmers.

Red-Bud Holler.

[WHICH IS ON GRASSY FORK]

JULY the 13th, 18 & 85

MR. EDITOR:—I know Bob Tailor pow'rful well, an' Nancy, that's my ole woman was a gwinter 'rite him a letter an' see if he cudent give me a lift. Ye see Bob run aginst that 'feller what they call hereabouts bug-juse Petybone. They had a speekin' down to the Coghill meetin house that 'ther time an' Bob staid all nite with me. 'Case me an' Nancy an' Hi Rains is the only two democrats in this deestrick. Hi coudn't keep Bob, 'case he cudent he ced. Sed I tu Nancy, sed I—'can't we keep the candidate?' Nancy 'lowed as tho' he was a stranger, an' 'sumthin' 'bout keepin angels unawares, an' if he cud put up with such as we eat he mout stay. Bob 'lowed as tho' he was m'ity much obleeged to us, an' 'peared pow'rful luv'in tu Sisero, Nancy's baby. After while Bob went out an' he cuffed like an' then winked at me an' I knowed rite then he was no angel fur Ol King an' Mericus Jones lemt me what that 'ther' kind of blinkin the eye ment Nancy she took tu Bob pow'rful, an' up an' sed if she had'n't a named the baby Sisero she'd call it Bob. She called Sisero 'case a young preacher from the college preached at our meetin house a little afore that, an' said Sisero was a babdrist. Nancy lays by the babdrist a heap, an' she named her baby Sisero. So I 'lowed Bob mite help me git the post off at Red-Bud Holler, an' so I took my foot in han' an' went down tu Clifton tu see Bill McSwane 'bout it. Bill's bin to the legislatar, an' they du say he voted square fur the democrats. That's powerful disappointin tu some of the rads her 'abouts, 'case they thought Bill voted fur bug-juse Pettibone. Bill's a hard fox tu trap, fur he gulled the wool over their eyes in the knobs tu. Nancy says as how she don't like tu see a man ridin 2 horses, but I tell her she mout talk tu much when I'm tryin tu git the post off.

I learn while I was down tu Clifton as how the president had pinte Bob Tailor fur tu pay the solgers pen-suns, I was a solger, but wurst one of Uncle Sams, I was one o Cousin Sally's solgers, an' I gues I'll not git any pen-sun. Bill McSwane sed he'd put a recomention in the legislatar tu pen-sun blind solgers. I'm not blind but Nancy says if the pen-sun was fur lazy solgers I'm a fit subject. Nancy's a good judge o' indigo, but she's cakulated tu blab suntimes. Bill McSwane sed tu git up a petishun an' git all the democrats in my deestrick tu sine it for me tu have the post off. Now that a'n't but two up here an' that me an' Nancy an' Hi Rains. Hi he's a wintin the post off tu. I think its mity insurin tu vote fur that feller Sainction, an' then up an' turn roun an' ask our president 'case I seed his ticket an' it had on top of it. Sainction wot bother now I gues, case Dan Terser what's been out in Arkansas says the rads hung Sainction in Effigy. If he'd a bin hung down in Alabama then ther rads up North wud a laid it on the democrats an' kluklud. Nancy says it makes a site o' diffrance whose dog's pisen. Hi Rains mout have the post off saore, case if he gits it, it'll ruin the glorious democreratic party in this deestrick. I'll bust it wide open. Mr. Editor I want you tu put blue penail marks 'round this letter like Gray Allen dux when they put his name in the tribune, an' send it tu Uncle Sam an' tell him I'll tick his stamps fur him or anything else.

Yours in haste

EZEKIEL REDBUD.

Only a Fraction of Life.

How many persons live only a fraction of average human life because they neglect to take the commonest precautions against sickness. It is disease in its maturity that kills, and maturity implies growth. A slight indisposition is usually slighted. They who avail themselves of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters know it to be efficacious in chronic cases of disease, but the process of cure is a far easier one if it is used in early stages of dyspepsia, malarial disease, rheumatism, constipation and liver derangement. Let those who would avoid the peril which even the most potent remedies cannot avert, steer clear of the rock upon which so many constitutions split—an under-appreciation of the danger of neglect. It will not do to omit care and a recourse to the medicine when health is affected. If debilitated, or nervous, or dyspeptic take it for granted you are in want of a remedy, use the Bitters.

AT HOME AGAIN IN THE WOOLEN BUSINESS

Some fifteen years ago the undersigned, in company with some Northern men, established what was known as the Doe River Woollen Manufacturing Company. After a few years some dissatisfaction arose and the stock began to change hands. I then established the Watauga Woollen Mills. The competition between the two mills made quite a business for the two factories, and was the means of several other factories being started in East Tenn. Finally, the whole thing fell into the hands of men that had no experience in the business, whatever, and before they fully established themselves the business man of the concern lost his health, so that he could not attend to the business and wished to retire, and I have now become the sole owner of the two factories, with all the machinery and water-power of the said factories. I now propose to re-establish the business in the name and style of WATAUGA WOOLEN MILLS. I also propose to make woollen goods out of genuine wool, and use nothing but good stock, and guarantee the same.

Picking, Carding and Spinning Wool into Yarn, per pound 125 cts. Jeans per yard 40 cts. Saturated, per yard, 60 cts. Linsey, per yard 35 cts. Cashmere, per yard, 75 cts. Flannels, per yard 40 cts.
